Finding private rented accommodation

Information about the options available when looking for accommodation.

Avoiding Fraud/Scams

Housing fraud is increasingly common in the UK. You must be wary of people pretending to be landlords in order to cheat tenants out of money. Please read our Renting Safely Factsheet for more information.

<http://www.bristol.ac.uk/accommodation/media/docs/factsheets/renting-safely.pdf>

Personal safety

Always try to take someone with you when you go to view a property. If you have to go alone make sure someone knows where you are going, who you are meeting and when you will be back.

Never transfer money unless you are 100% sure that the situation is authentic. If you are in any doubt, contact us for advice immediately.

Right to Rent

The UK Government has introduced new law that requires all private landlords in England to check that prospective tenants have the right to live in the UK. This will apply to everyone renting private sector accommodation so please read our factsheet for more details:

<http://www.bristol.ac.uk/accommodation/media/docs/factsheets/right-to-rent-students.pdf>

Booking Accommodation from abroad

You should not arrange long-term private rented accommodation from overseas if possible.

Reserve a room in a youth hostel or local guesthouse locally while you look for suitable accommodation. We would also advise not to bring your family until you have secured accommodation. The University cannot provide temporary accommodation but a list of guesthouses is available here:

<https://visitbristol.co.uk/accommodation> and a list of hostels is available here:
www.hostelbookers.com/hostels/england/bristol/

If you are interested in a room and you're liaising with a landlord, it would be worth asking if you could organise a live property tour of the property via eg whatsapp/messenger/facetime. This gives you the chance to see the accommodation before committing. If the landlord agrees then it also gives you extra assurance that it is not a scam.

If you must book accommodation from abroad then you should use one of the commercial housing providers, Bristol SU Lettings www.bristolsulettings.co.uk or an established agency, to be sure to avoid scams. A list of local agencies is available on our website <http://www.bristol.ac.uk/accommodation/media/docs/factsheets/letting-agencies.pdf> If you are considering renting from elsewhere then contact the accommodation office for advice.

Where to find rented accommodation

Bristol SU Lettings

A lettings service managed by UoB's Students' Union - this should be the first place you look. Bristol SU Lettings offers a full range of private accommodation options for individuals or groups but with no agency fees to pay. See www.bristolsulettings.co.uk

University of Bristol Bulletin Board

Staff and students with vacancies in their accommodation looking for sharers will advertise here. Alternatively you can post an advert here yourself if you're looking for other flat sharers. You will need to register with the site, preferably using a University email address. <http://www.bristol.ac.uk/accommodation/privately-rented/finding-privately-rented-accommodation/bulletin-board.html>

Letting Agencies

Following the Tenants Fees Act 2019, a letting agent can no longer charge fees to cover the costs of preparing the tenancy agreement, inventory, and checking references etc at the start of a private tenancy. The only permitted fees they can now charge are:

- holding fees (refundable and capped at 1 weeks rent)
- deposits (refundable and capped at 2 months rent)
- rent
- payments to change the tenancy, eg transfer to another tenant (this should be capped at £50 or reasonable costs if higher)
- payments associated with early termination of the tenancy
- payments in respect to utilities, communication services, tv license or Council Tax
- Default fee for late payment of rent and replacement of lost key/security device where required by the tenancy agreement.

For further information about permitted and prohibited fees please read our Tenants Fees Act factsheet:

<http://www.bristol.ac.uk/accommodation/media/docs/factsheets/tenant-fees-act.pdf>

It is a legal requirement for letting agencies to be a member of one of 2 government approved redress schemes who are there to help resolve disputes between agents and their customers. You can ask the agent who they are registered with or check their membership via the schemes' websites:

- The Property Ombudsman:
<https://www.tpos.co.uk/>
- The Property Redress Scheme:
<https://www.theprs.co.uk/Consumer>

Try to use an agency who is a member of a professional body e.g. NALS, ARLA, BALMA. A list of local agencies is available here:

<http://www.bristol.ac.uk/accommodation/media/docs/letting-agencies.pdf>

Large commercial providers

In Bristol there are a number of large properties built or refurbished by private developers specifically for students. They do not provide accommodation for families/children but accept singles and have limited accommodation for couples. Most require UK guarantors or expect the whole years' rent in advance. They offer tenancies of a minimum of 43 – 51 weeks.

Living with a resident landlord/landlady

These rooms are usually in family homes sharing facilities such as living room/bathroom/kitchen.

This is often good value for money and bills are usually included. It is often more flexible with dates of the tenancy as well. Bristol SU Lettings www.bristolsulettings.co.uk advertise some vacancies with resident landlords and you'll find some on other accommodation websites as well.

Accreditation

Check if your property is part of the Rent with Confidence Scheme which should mean it upholds specific standards and which is overseen by Bristol City Council. If the property or landlord do not adhere to the standards you can complain to the organisation who approved them.

Also check if your landlord or agent has signed up to the Bristol Ethical Lettings Charter This charter was created locally by a community organisation, Acorn, to help create a fair, professional and ethical private rental sector across Bristol. Participating landlords have signed up to a good practise charter, with bronze, silver and gold categories of commitments. UoB and Bristol SU support the charter.

UK Guarantor

When booking private accommodation, you will often be asked to provide the name and address of someone in the UK who will promise to pay your rent or for any damage if you are not able to. This person is known as a 'guarantor'. If you don't have one then you may be asked for the full years rent upfront.

Housinghand.co.uk

This organisation will act as a guarantor for University of Bristol students for a fee of £225 or 8 monthly payments of £30. You will need to check that your landlord will accept their guarantee though.

The University of Bristol Accommodation Office runs a housing advice service for students, if you have any problems with your private rented accommodation please contact us.

Due to Coronavirus our office on campus is closed but our services are available remotely. Please contact us by email and an adviser will get back to you: accom-office@bris.ac.uk
