EMPIRE AND TOURISM SYMPOSIUM

Centre for the Study of Colonial and Postcolonial Societies
University of Bristol, Monday 5th December 2011, 43 Woodland Road, 08.30-17.15

Please join us for a one-day cross-discipline symposium on Empire and Tourism. This event brings together postgraduates and academics to explore a broad range of themes including the practice of travel and tourism within Empire, visual representations of this activity across different media, the historical origins of tourism within Empire, and also links between colonial travel and present-day tourism.

The symposium offers three panels throughout the day:

- War, empire and tourism
- Travelogues and visual representations of empire;
- Contrasting modern and historical approaches to tourism.

Keynote speakers are Professor Tim Youngs, Nottingham Trent University, and Professor Charles Forsdick, University of Liverpool.

A drinks reception will follow the symposium.

Please contact Claire Thomas (claire.thomas@bristol.ac.uk) or Sabrina Fairchild (sabrina.fairchild@bristol.ac.uk) for further information. While official registration is not required, we would request notice if you would like to attend. Hope to see you there.
