Making a bequest

A bequest to the Foundation may reduce your liability for Inheritance Tax and it will help future generations of students and researchers. Last year, the University received bequests ranging from $500 to over $3,000,000. These gifts are part of a long heritage of giving that has sustained the University since its first days. Regardless of their size, each and every one of these bequests has had a tremendous impact on the various areas of University life that have benefited from it – from students to vital research, to the maintenance of our city’s great iconic buildings. As the university sector faces its toughest time yet, bequests are going to play an even more important role in securing our progression.

☐ Please send me the University of Bristol Bequest Pack.

☐ I have already included Bristol in my Will.
