Dear Esther

Grants nos: LIN 2038 and ASH 1062, 1063 and 1064
(Please quote these numbers in all correspondence)

I wrote to you on 4th November last year in connection with the above Linbury grant. At that time the Ashden trustees had not determined the amount of their support for the project; thus my letter was deliberately non-specific as to the exact amount of the Linbury grant. My colleague Jo Temple then wrote to you on 24th November to confirm that the Ashden Trust grant would be for £120,000.

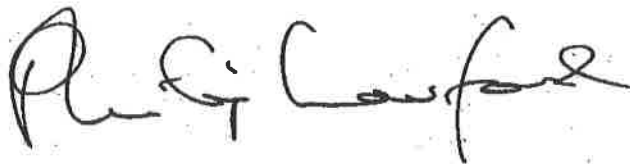

I now realise that I did not write again to confirm the amount of the Linbury Trust grant. I am therefore now writing to correct that oversight. The amount of the Linbury Trust grant to support the project: Assessing the feasibility and acceptability of comparing the Lightning Process with specialist medical care for CFS or ME – pilot Randomised Controlled Trial is £120,000. All other terms and conditions of the grant are as set out in my letter of 4th November.

Support from Linbury and Ashden together therefore totals the requested sum of £164,000.

I am sorry for this oversight which I understand has caused some uncertainty for your financial colleagues.

With good wishes.

Yours sincerely

Philip Lawford

Dear Esther

Grant no: ASH1062, ASH1063, ASH1064 (Please quote these numbers in all correspondence)

I am pleased to say that the trustees of The Ashden Trust have agreed to make a grant of £44,000 over three years (£14,667 in each of 2009/10, 2010/11 and 2011/12) to University of Bristol towards the scientific study of the lightning process.

As with all our grants, we ask you to agree a number of conditions. The grant is conditional on its being used for the purpose for which it was awarded. If at any time this is not possible, please let us know immediately. In such a case we would aim to be sympathetic, but the trustees will reserve the right to require you to return that part of the grant which cannot be used for its intended purpose.

Grants in year 2 and beyond are conditional on our receipt of a satisfactory annual report on the progress of the grant. We would like to receive each report as soon as possible after the anniversary of the date when you first drew down the grant. A final report should also be submitted at the end of the period of the grant.

As part of Ashden Trust's commitment to addressing climate change we strongly encourage all grant beneficiaries to consider their environmental impact. We actively encourage beneficiaries, through an audit process, to assess what changes can be made to bring about environmental improvements in your organisation. These changes might include green procurement, employee behaviour change, sustainable travel plans or changes in the way you use energy. If you do not have an environmental policy in place, or would like support in making changes, please contact Ashden Trust for a list of recommended organisations that can help you with your audit process

Please confirm your acceptance of the conditions set out above and let me know when you expect to request payment of the first instalment of the grant. When you do request payment, please supply your bank details if you wish to receive the funds by bank transfer.

Yours sincerely
Jo Temple
