Bristol Synthesis Meeting 2024

Since its launch in 2001, the Bristol Synthesis Meeting has established itself as a major fixture in the UK calendar of scientific symposia, having grown in popularity to become the largest one-day chemistry event in Europe.

This year's invited speakers are:

Professor Veronique Gouverneur

University of Oxford

Professor Tehshik Yoon

University of Wisconsin-Madison

Professor Kimoon Kim

Pohang University of Science and Technology

Professor Martin Burke

University of Illinois

Professor Frances Arnold

California Institute of Technology

Our speakers are all giants in organic chemistry. Having made major impacts in their own particular fields, they continue to shape the future of our subject. They will, no doubt, provide a thoroughly enjoyable and inspiring day of chemistry.

We are pleased to welcome you to the 21st annual Bristol Synthesis Meeting.

With best wishes,

Professor Varinder Aggarwal FRS
