University of Bristol
International Foundation Programme

Translated web pages
Key information about the International Foundation Programme is now available in translation. Our web page for parents and advisors can be read in Español, Français, 中文简体, Русский and عربي. It gives details about pathways, progression and entry requirements.

Link to page

Unit details online
We offer personalised advice on unit choices. This will help students progress onto their chosen degree at the University of Bristol. Details of all academic units can be found on the pathway pages of our website.

Link to page

Last chance to apply
Due to high demand, we are still accepting applications. Students will need to hurry though – places are allocated on a first-come, first-served basis. To help us work quickly, please submit a full application.

Link to page

Stay connected
Want more updates on the International Foundation Programme? Find us on social media:

- facebook.com/celfs
- twitter.com/UoBris_CELFS
- instagram.com/bristol_ifp

You can find more information at bristol.ac.uk/ifp
Where do our students progress?
Our International Foundation Programme helps students progress to the University of Bristol and succeed in their chosen career.

Steffenny Wong – Indonesia
Steffenny Wong graduated from BSc Biochemistry with Molecular Biology and Biotechnology in 2014, and is now studying MSc Neuroscience. She plans to apply for a PhD.

“The International Foundation Programme prepared me for the academic setting. There is a lot of support. You can always ask the tutor – they are always around.”

Ekin Arabul – Turkey
Ekin Arabul graduated from MEng Computer Science and Electronics in 2015, and is now studying MSc Electrical and Electronic Engineering. He hopes to study his PhD here.

“The foundation year made the transition from high school to university much smoother. If I had started university straight from high school, I would have had problems with the language.”

Yuan Yuan – China
Yuan Yuan graduated from BSc Accounting and Finance in 2015, and is now studying MSc Finance and Investment.

“The International Foundation Programme not only helps you improve your English language skills, it helps explain UK culture as well. The programme helped me prepare for undergraduate study.”

You can find more information at bristol.ac.uk/ifp