

Population Health Research Theme
Annual Symposium 2013 and Stephen Frankel lecture

Thursday 14 November 2013, 12:30 to 18.30
Wills Hall, Parrys Lane, Stoke Bishop, Bristol, BS9 1AE

PROGRAMME

12:30 – 13:10 Lunch, registration and networking

13:10 – 13:20 Welcome – Dr Nic Timpson

Session 1 Chair: Sarah Hardcastle

13:20 – 13:40 Professor Julian Higgins, School of Social and Community Medicine
"Overcoming bias and inter-study variation in meta-analysis"

13:40 – 14:00 Professor Marcus Munafo, School of Experimental Psychology
"Emotion Recognition Training and Mental Health"

14:00 – 14:15 Dr Deborah Caldwell, School of Social and Community Medicine
"Which tocolytic for pre-term delivery?"
Awarded Best Presentation at the Population Health Theme 'Early Career Researchers Event 2013'

14:15 – 14:50 Refreshments and poster competition

Session 2 Chair: Amy Taylor

14:50 – 15:05 Mrs Rosie Cornish, School of Social and Community Medicine
"Using linkage to electronic primary care records to evaluate non-response bias in ALSPAC"

15:05 – 15:20 Dr Louisa Edwards, School of Social and Community Medicine
"Development of a model to inform the design of a telehealth intervention to support patients with long-term conditions"

15:20 – 15:35 Dr Raquel Granell, School of Social and Community Medicine
"Causal effects of BMI, fat mass and lean mass on asthma in childhood: Mendelian randomization study"

15:35 – 15:50 Refreshment break

15:50 – 16:00 Poster competition results and prize
Professor Jonathan Sterne, Head of School of Social and Community Medicine

16:00 – 17:00 The Stephen Frankel Lecture – Introduction by Professor Jonathan Sterne
Angela Coulter
"Engaging Patients in Healthcare"

17:00 – 18:30 Drinks Reception

<http://www.bristol.ac.uk/populationhealth/>

This event was kindly sponsored by the Institute for Advanced Studies, University of Bristol

