CAPC Lunch-time Webinar Series 2022/23

Innovation and impact in primary care research

The Centre for Academic Primary Care (CAPC) is one of the leading centres for primary care research in the UK and a member of the NIHR School for Primary Care Research. Our goal is to make primary care better for everyone by providing a strong evidence base to improve services, patient outcomes and professional practice. In this webinar series, we will highlight and discuss recent innovations in our research focusing on our core areas of expertise.

These webinars are free and open to all. We look forward to you joining us!

Webinar 1: Good Grief: Co-creating a public engagement festival
Wednesday, 26 January 2022, 12:00-13:00, via Zoom. Register on Eventbrite.
Contributors: Dr Lucy Selman, Dr Lesel Dawson

Webinar 2: Infections research informing NICE guidance (provisional title)
March 2022 (date to be confirmed), 12:00-13:00, via Zoom
Contributors: Professor Alastair Hay

Webinar 3: Research theme: Domestic and sexual violence and abuse (title to be confirmed)
May 2022 (date to be confirmed), 12:00-13:00, via Zoom
Contributors: To be confirmed

Webinar 4: Research theme: Dermatology (title to be confirmed)
Tuesday, 12 July 2022, 12:00-13:00, via Zoom
Contributors: Professor Matthew Ridd

Webinar 5: Research theme: Multimorbidity (title to be confirmed)
Monday, 24 October 2022, 12:00-13:00, via Zoom
Contributors: Dr Polly Duncan, Dr Rachel Johnson, Dr Cindy Mann, Professor Chris Salisbury

Webinar 6: Research theme: Urgent care (title to be confirmed)
January 2023 (date to be confirmed), 12:00-13:00, via Zoom
Contributors: Dr Matthew Booker and Dr Helen Baxter

For more information about who we are and what we do, see www.bristol.ac.uk/capc. Sign up to our research newsletter. Follow us on Twitter: @capcbristol