

Access Study

Access to medical test result services in general practice

Your practice is taking part in the Access study run by Bristol University.

The study is about the medical test result services offered by general practice. Information about what services are offered and how patients access these services will be collected.

The study will involve interviewing staff and patients. It will also involve researchers being present in the general practice to observe practice staff and find out how test results services are provided.

The study does not involve releasing names or identifiable information about individual patients. If you want to know more about the study, please contact Dr Gemma Lasseter at the University of Bristol on 0117 331 3400 or gemma.lasseter@bristol.ac.uk.

