

Interdisciplinary Research & Antimicrobial Resistance Workshop

Programme

Date: 2-3 March 2017

Venue: Engineers' House, The Promenade, Clifton Down, Bristol BS8 3NB

Registration: Please arrive to register prior to the event so that we can start the workshop at 2pm

Day 1

Engineers' House - Building B (formally Merchants Hall - BS8 3NH)

Time	Title & speaker/s
13:30 - 14:00	Registration
14:00 - 14:30	Opening Session
14:00 - 14:10 14:10 - 14:30	Naomi Beaumont (ESRC) - Introduction and scene setting Helen Lambert (Bristol) - What does it take to do interdisciplinary research on AMR and why do we need it?
14:30 - 16:30	Expert Panel Talks: Interdisciplinary research on AMR
14:30 - 14:45	1. Kristen Reyher/Henry Buller (Bristol/Exeter) – Scientists, humans and other animals: Negotiating the vocabulary (amongst other things) of interdisciplinary AMR research
14:45 - 15:00	2. Emily Rousham (Loughborough) – AMR transmission from the outdoor environment to humans in Bangladesh: an interdisciplinary approach
15:00 - 15:15	3. Esmita Charani (Imperial) – The challenges and rewards of conducting social science research into antimicrobial stewardship in secondary care
15:15 - 15:30	4. Marco Haenssgen (Oxford) – Antibiotic use in Southeast Asia - Research experiences of a “social scientist”
15:30 - 16:00	Tea/coffee break
16:00 - 16:15	5. Gloria Cordoba Currea (Copenhagen) - Interdisciplinary research on antimicrobial resistance: driving the unknown route
16:15 - 16:30	6. Carolyn Tarrant (University of Leicester) – Studying antimicrobial resistance as a social dilemma
16:30 - 17:30	Expert Speakers Panel Q & A
17:30 - 18:45	Networking and Wine reception
18:45	Dinner

Time	Title & speaker/s
08:30 - 09:00	Registration Breakfast baps and pastries available
09:00 - 13:00	Workshop: Developing interdisciplinary collaborations
09:00 – 9:15	Scene-setting and Introduction - Christie Cabral (Bristol)
09:15 –10:30	Small group work in thematic clusters <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Identifying ways to achieve interdisciplinarity & disciplinary intersections
Tea/coffee available throughout morning session
10:30 - 12:30	Small group work to develop collaborations / projects <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Participants continue discussions in thematic clusters or break into small groups to discuss specific project ideas
12:30 - 13:00	Workshop: reporting back <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Structured feedback and reflections from groups - Synthesis and summary
13:00 - 13:45	Lunch
13:45 - 14:50	Presentations from RCUK funders: Opportunities for funding interdisciplinary research in AMR <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Naomi Beaumont (ESRC) - Sian Rowland (BBSRC) - Ghada Zoubiane (MRC) Funders' panel Q & A
14:50 - 15:00	Final remarks and Workshop close