WUN Research Development Fund (RDF) 2017 – Additional Guidelines for the University of Bristol

- The IAS/WUN Development Manager, Dr Susan Jim (contact details are below), is happy to discuss proposals at any time.

- Academic staff should forward their expressions of interest by completing the Draft Proposal Form for the WUN RDF 2017 and submitting this to Dr Jim (susan.jim@bristol.ac.uk) by Friday 22 September 2017.

- In addition to alignment with WUN Global Challenges and United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, Bristol RDF proposals must also show a clear alignment with the GCRF priority research areas.

- Details of projects funded in previous rounds can be found on the WUN Central RDF webpage: http://www.wun.ac.uk/research-development.html; for RDF 2016 awards, please see: http://www.wun.ac.uk/article/2016-research-development-fund-results

- More details, including a timeline for the construction of applications, are available at: http://www.bristol.ac.uk/wun/funding/

Matched Funding

- Applications to the WUN Research Development Fund must be matched by cash funding (using the sum total of investment of the project partners). For example, for an application for £10,000 from WUN, the matching funds might consist of £4,000 from Bristol, £2,000 from Chinese University of Hong Kong, £2,000 from Sydney and £2,000 from Cape Town.

- Up to £5,000 is available for projects led by Bristol and up to £2,000 for projects in which Bristol is a key partner (these monies are to support the engagement of our researchers and are typically used to support travel).

Assessment

- The University of Bristol can submit two applications (on which Bristol is the lead partner) to WUN Central. Therefore applications will be ranked internally before submission to WUN Central by the Bristol GCRF Group: https://www.bris.ac.uk/red/development/applying/gcrf/
