Celebrating your impact

You are part of an inspirational community of philanthropists who are enabling ground-breaking research, solving global challenges and enriching lives.

Throughout its history, the University of Bristol has been shaped by the extraordinary generosity of its supporters. Today and in recent years, your remarkable gifts continue this legacy and are a critical part of the University's success.

Across the following pages, we proudly recognise the University's most generous supporters. Together, you have a far-reaching impact on talented students and researchers, the future of our University, and our world.

The Chancellor's Circle

For donors who have committed £100,000 to £499,999 to the University

Our distinguished Chancellors include a Prime Minister, Nobel Laureates and the Supreme Court of the United Kingdom's first female President – a diverse and illustrious group that is emblematic of our University. We are pleased to recognise our donors and supporters within the Chancellor's Circle whose gifts help to advance academic excellence and achievements across all the disciplines.

The Haldane Circle

For donors who have committed
£500,000 to £999,999 to the University

Bristol's second Chancellor, Lord Haldane, had an enduring influence on higher education. The Haldane Circle will help to ensure that our University continues to realise this same mission.

The Sir Winston Churchill Philanthropic Circle

For donors who have committed over £5 million to the University

Sir Winston Churchill, our longest serving Chancellor (1929-1965), Nobel Laureate (Literature 1953) and Prime Minister, lends his name to our most prestigious Giving Circle. He understood our ambition to make a better life for the world in which we live. We are pleased to recognise those whose landmark gifts will be crucial in realising our bold ambition for the future.
