

James Hawkey

Lecturer in Spanish Linguistics

James is an early-career researcher, with his work centring on contemporary Catalan sociolinguistics. He took up the position of Lecturer in Spanish Linguistics in September 2014, after three years at the Université Sorbonne Nouvelle - Paris 3, in both teaching and research positions. He gained his PhD in Hispanic Sociolinguistics from Queen Mary University of London in 2012.

Leah Tether

Lecturer in Medieval French Literature

Leah Tether is a scholar of medieval French literature, Arthurian romance, book history and publishing studies. She completed her PhD in Medieval Literature at Durham in 2009 and then became a Postdoctoral Research Fellow at Anglia Ruskin University. She has a background in trade publishing, having worked at Penguin Books, and became a Lecturer in Publishing in 2010. Leah joined the University of Bristol in 2015, and is the Graduate Education Director for the Faculty of Arts, as well as the Co-Director of the Centre for Medieval Studies.

Gareth Griffith

Senior Teaching Fellow and Director of Parts-Time Programmes

Gareth is a Senior Teaching Fellow and Director of Part-Time Programmes in the Department of English. He works primarily on the literature of the Middle English period, with a particular interest in synthesising literary and manuscript studies to interpret written culture.

Nariman Massoumi

Lecturer, Department of Film and TV

Naz is a filmmaker and lecturer in the Department of Film and Television, with a background in documentary television production. His research specialises in Iranian/diasporic cinemas and documentary film practice, and he has a wider interest in British/Iranian film cultures and histories. Naz is also an Associate Editor of Screenworks, the peer-reviewed journal of film and screen practice research.