

Creative and Performing Arts

Natasha Riordan-Eva

Classical Music Event Manager, Southbank Centre

Natasha is currently the classical music event managers and the Southbank Centre. Previously is was a communications intern at the Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment.

Marietta Kirkbride

Playwright

Marietta is a playwright that has balanced her writing with developing a complimentary career, first in arts administration, then producing, and recently in development.

As an independent playwright her work has been performed in regional and rural venues across the UK and at Vault Festival in London. Marietta has been a writer on attachment at The Bristol Old Vic, part of Creative England's South West talent module, and recently wrote a short play for BBC Radio 4. Also in 2017 she joined Bristol Festivals which is a network and advocacy organisation for all the cultural and commercial festivals in Bristol.

Richard Dufty

Head of Producing, Battersea Arts Centre

Richard is the Head of Producing at Battersea Arts Centre. Situated in South London, Battersea Arts Centre is a creative hub, working with over 400 artists to put on over 650 performances per year.

Nel Crouch

Artistic Director of Theatre Company Bucket Club

Nel is Artistic Director of multi award-winning company Bucket Club. She has recently been a BBC Performing Arts Fellow, Director in Residence at Tobacco Factory Theatres and a Jerwood Assistant Director at the Young Vic.