

I bring to this research project..

my broad skills

my specialist skills

LEFT BLANK FOR DOUBLE SIDED PRINTING

This research needs someone who...

is engaged in, and interested in undertaking new, original scholarly research has knowledge of rigorous methods has broad skills

understands academic writing and publishing has access to academic networks

has specialist skills

has expertise in specialist research methods has deep content knowledge of one or more areas of research has knowledge of wider academic concepts and theories

This research needs someone who...

is experienced in engaging publics is skilled in managing campaigns and organising

has broad skills

is focused on achieving change is willing to disrupt the norm

has specialist skills

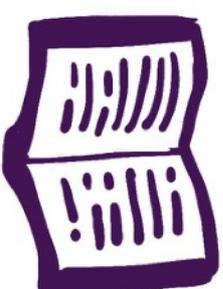

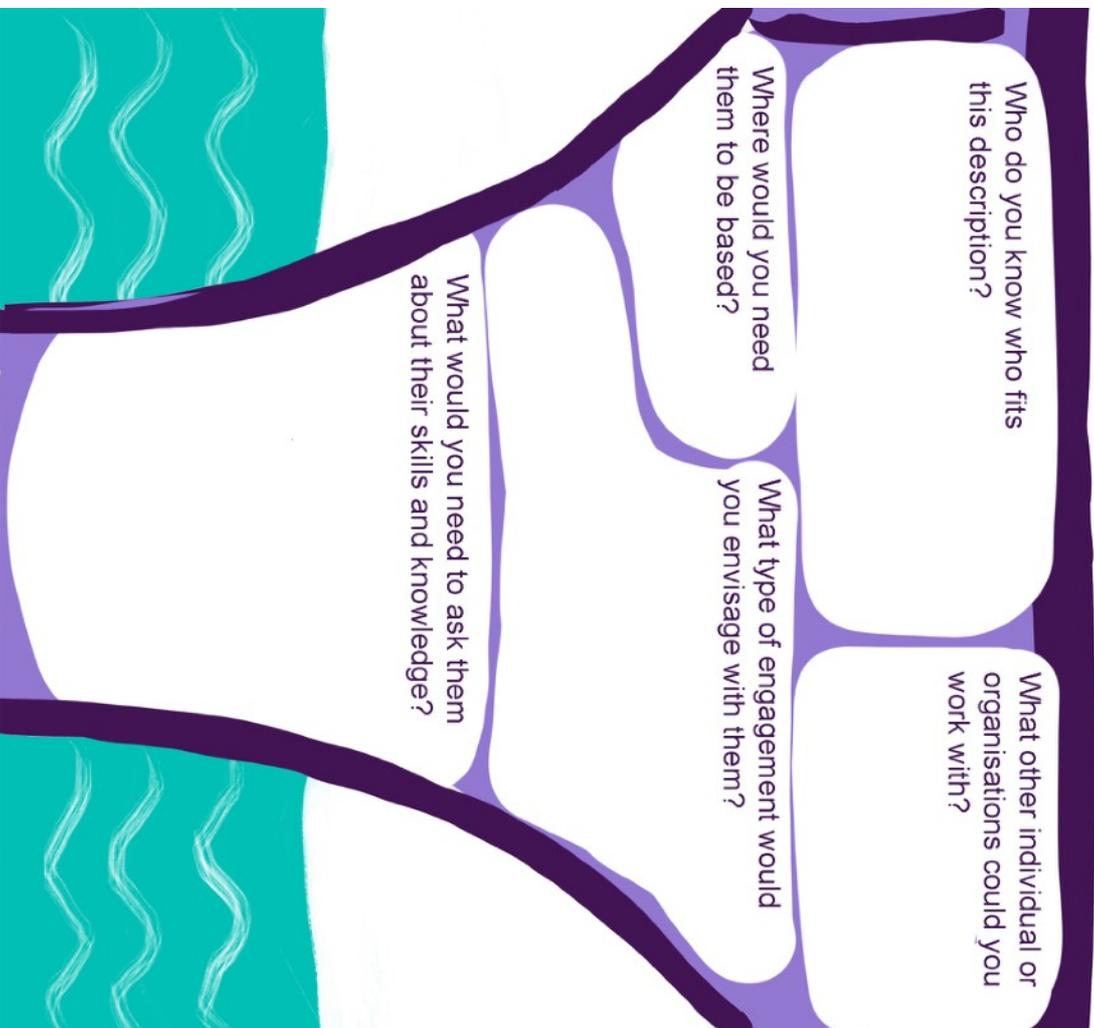

has deep knowledge of a topic / cause / policy may draw on lived experience has access to specific networks

An activist may have these skills...

An academic researcher may have these skills...

This research needs someone who...

uses creative processes and tools brings fresh and creative thinking to question perspectives engages with audiences

has broad skills

has access to creative networks

has facilitation skills

has specialist skills

has a well-developed creative practice is experienced in producing creative projects and outputs may bring lived experience to their work has deep knowledge of particular themes of interest

This research needs someone who...

understands consumers and marketing has knowledge of business models develops products or services

has broad skills

has specialist skills

has deep knowledge of specialist sector and market may have access to infrastructure and equipment has access to specific supplier and consumer networks has a specific business offering has specific expertise

A business may have these skills...

An artist may have these skills...

This research needs someone who...

has skills in campaigning and lobbying understands demographics engages publics

has broad skills

creates change

delivers services

has specialist skills

has deep understanding of an issue or cause has knowledge of service users may enable access to a community or network

may draw on lived experience

This research needs someone who...

engages and organises communities and networks is fluid

has facilitation skills

has broad skills

is able to engage, influence and persuade has knowledge of audiences and understands demographics

has specialist skills

has deep knowledge of a topic or theme

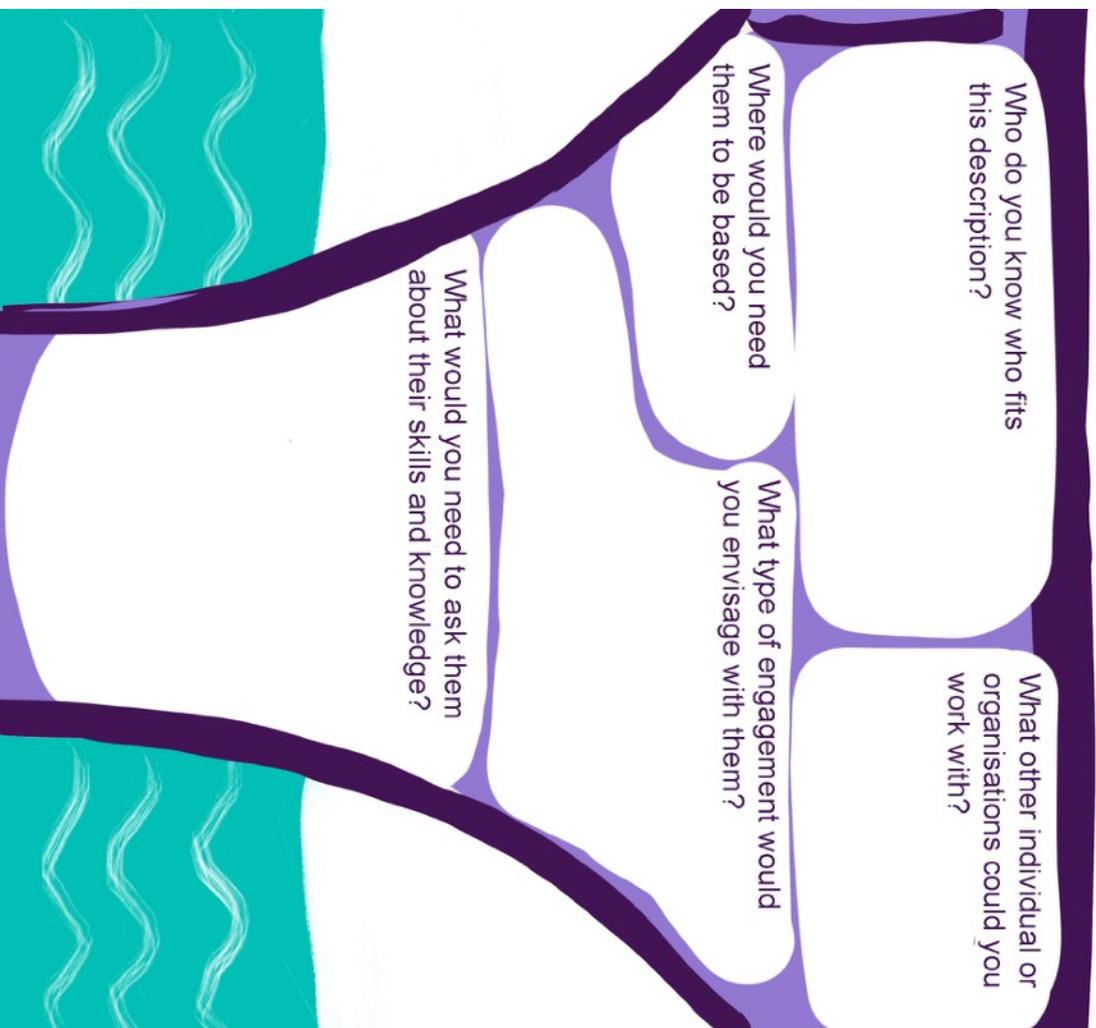

may draw on lived experience

has deep knowledge of networks enables access to a specific network or community

A community or special interest group may have these skills...

A charity may have these skills...

This research needs someone who...

has broad skills

has skills in conservation and collection management has expertise in curatorship has knowledge of audiences

has specialist skills

has a deep collections and curatorial knowledge enables access to archives and collections provides access to specific heritage networks and audiences has knowledge of engaging communities

This research needs someone who...

has broad skills

is committed to engaging diverse users has knowledge of influencing policy has knowledge of government priorities is experienced in making and delivering policy has knowledge of statutory processes has knowledge of responsibility

has specialist skills

has access to infrastructures enables access to communities has broad knowledge of service users or communities has deep knowledge of specific public services and policy

Someone working in the public sector may have these skills...

Who do you know who fits this description?

What other individual or organisations could you work with?

Where would you need them to be based?

What type of engagement would you envisage with them?

What would you need to ask them about their skills and knowledge?

A heritage organisation may have these skills...

Who do you know who fits this description?

What other individual or organisations could you work with?

Where would you need them to be based?

What type of engagement would you envisage with them?

What would you need to ask them about their skills and knowledge?

This research needs someone who...

has broad skills

has specialist skills

