

Dr Ana Gambôa

BDS MSc DDPH PhD FHEA MPerio RCSEd

Ana Gambôa is a Consultant Senior Lecturer in Periodontology at the University of Bristol where is she committed to both undergraduate and post-graduate education. Ana has great experience in leading post-graduate programs and supervising dental core trainees, registrars, MSc and PhD students.

Ana completed her PhD at Queen Mary University of London when she researched the link between psychological stress and gum disease. Since then, she has been involved in numerous projects and has participated in the development of clinical guidelines.

Ana dedicates her specialist clinical time to complex multi-disciplinary periodontal and dental implant cases with particular interest in soft-tissue grafting and treatment of peri-implantitis.