Historical Studies Lunchtime Lectures 2010/11

The Historical Studies 'Lunchtime lecture' series gives students the opportunity to hear lectures of general interest. For example, members of staff may report on their latest research, on pressing research issues or problems, on topical aspects of their work, or indeed on anything else that seems important to them. All undergraduates, postgraduates and staff are welcome to attend. Undergraduates should note that, though a glitch in the system this year means these lectures do appear on timetables, you are strongly urged to attend because individual research is such an important element of both the History BA and History of Art BA (particularly in the new syllabus being introduced in the latter). The lectures can help to widen your interests, deepen your understanding of what research is being conducted by members of staff, and see something of how they go about it.

Unless otherwise notified, all the lectures will take place in Arts Faculty Lecture Theatre 1 (LT1), 13.10-13.50.
