

Publishing and sharing your list

To allow your students to find and use your resource list, you will need to publish it, and share it via your Blackboard course.

After a list has been published, you can edit and republish it as often as you wish. Each time you republish the list, your changes will immediately be visible to your students.

Publishing your list

If there are unpublished changes to your list, you will see a notification beneath the list title:

HIST30097: Teenage Kicks: Youth and Subculture in Britain since 1918

UNPUBLISHED CHANGES Latest changes are not published. ✓ Changes saved

To publish your changes, click the red Publish button at the top-right of the screen. The changes will be visible to students immediately.

Sharing your list

Due to Talis Aspire's 2025 rollover date of the 28th of May, new lists cannot be added to Blackboard Ultra until May 29th. Please contact the Library at lib-resource-lists@bristol.ac.uk if you have any concerns about this. After May 29th, the Resource Lists team at the Library will be able to provide assistance with the addition of new lists to Blackboard Ultra. This guidance will be updated once new lists can be added.