

ALSPAC Study History Access Workflow

The workflow depicts the process of requesting material from the Children of the 90s (ALSPAC) Study History, including indicative turn around periods for the request.

Please note that requests for additional material that fall within the same access category/subject area can be supplied by Special Collections staff at their discretion.

Requests for additional material that are a higher access category, where the focus of the research changes or involves additional users need to go back through the application procedure.
