We need more Year 3 GP teachers in Bristol

Many thanks to all of you who have already booked Year 3 teaching. Due to the unprecedented number of students, 350 instead of the usual 250, we still need more practices in Bristol to teach our third years. If you have room capacity but no GP time, you could consider offering this opportunity to GPs with an interest in teaching who have worked in your practice as locums. ## How are we doing with inspiring our students to become GPs?

Jess Buchan, GP and clinical MB21 Year 2 lead invited her students to reflect:

'Think about a role model you've come across in medical training so far—it might be a doctor, a patient, a colleague...you don't need to say who, but think about what have they taught you about the qualities of a good doctor interacting with patients?'

A number of students mentioned their GP on GP placement as a key role model for them

Barbara Laue, co-chair for MB21 Year 4, asked MB21 Year 2 students at the end of an inter professional lecture about 'collapse' about their career plans and was pleased to see this:

Would you like to become a GP?

- A. Not in a million years
- B. May be
- C. Quite interested
- D. Very keen
